Subject: Labeling Milk and other foods

Sensitivity: Personal

I have just read a most distressing article about the addition of genetically altered milk. I am extremely concerned about this sort of thing and the fact that I am trying to raise healthy children.

I live in the city and I can't grow everything we eat nor would I want to.

However, by properly labeling such foods, I can choose to whether or not to buy them, if I consider them dangerous. PLEASE give those of us who care this option!! I want to know which foods are not as God intended them.

Thank you.
